April 12, 2019 ▪ 7pm ▪ README @ UCLA presents…

AFTER DISRUPTION

a two-part event exploring worker-centered futures and the rise/demise of platform systems

7:00–8:30pm
Part One: Understanding the Landscape
A conversation on Big Tech, the future of labor, and how systems have successfully been co-opted in the past. Guest speakers include:

▪ Cory Doctorow, Special Advisor to the Electronic Frontier Foundation
▪ Dr. Britt Paris, Researcher at Data & Society
▪ Dr. Sarah T. Roberts, Asst. Professor in the Dept. of Information Studies
▪ Saba Waheed, Research Director at the UCLA Labor Center

8:30–9:30pm
Part Two: Envisioning the Future
A collaborative, participatory workshop led by README and LA Cryptoparty where audience and speakers join together to re-imagine how platforms function.

UCLA Broad Arts Center
EDA, First Floor
240 Charles E Young Drive N
Los Angeles, CA 90095

Free, RSVP required:
pretix.eu/readme/after-disruption

This event has been made possible with the generous support of the UCLA Information Studies Department, the UCLA Design Media Arts Department, and LA Cryptoparty. Photo courtesy 🐦 @allekto.

🐦 #AfterDisruption
@doctorow @ParisBrittany @ubiquity75
@sabawaa @uclareadme @CryptoPartyLA